

Student Directory Information “Opt Out” Form Including use of photos for marketing purposes

COMPLETE AND RETURN THIS FORM ONLY IF YOU DO NOT WANT YOUR STUDENT’S DIRECTORY INFORMATION USED IN HFM BOCES RELATED MEDIA AND PUBLICATIONS

The federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) allows schools to disclose certain “directory information” about students such as a student’s name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, participation in athletics, honors and awards, photographs and dates of attendance unless parents have advised the BOCES to the contrary.

The primary purpose of directory information is to allow HFM BOCES to include this type of information in BOCES publications (print publications, BOCES website, social media* outlets) and for publicity of specific educational programs and student accomplishments to the electronic (television) and print (newspaper) media.

In practice, HFM BOCES has historically released a student’s name, grade, honor, awards and photographs in publications, to the media and on the BOCES website. Other directory information is not routinely released.

*Social media includes web- and mobile-based technologies that are used to enable interactive dialogue among individuals, organizations and communities around various forms of online content.
