All K-12 non-classroom teacher evaluations and professional growth shall be governed by the procedures below. Please note that the word “teacher” throughout this document and within all accompanying documents refers to all K-12 non-classroom certified and/or licensed professional staff who provide direct or indirect services to students and/or adults. “Teachers” include, but are not limited to, psychologists, social workers, adult educators, teachers on special assignment, school counselors, library media specialists, therapists, speech/language pathologists, teacher assistants, or any other non-classroom teacher category.

The goal of the Professional Performance Review process is to assist all teachers in their roles and to provide them with opportunities for personal and professional development and growth.

The following system of performance review will be followed for probationary teachers.

I. Probationary Teachers who have a Danielson rubric applicable to their position/duties:

During New Staff Orientation the Danielson rubrics (Instructional Specialist, School Counselor, School Psychologist, and Therapeutic Specialist) and the observation procedures will be discussed. In addition, during the school year, BOCES administrators will meet with each of their new teachers to discuss BOCES evaluation expectations and goals.

A minimum of three (3) observations will be conducted during the first and second years of a probationary appointment - two announced and one unannounced observation (in this order) using one of the Danielson rubrics.

A minimum of two (2) observations will be conducted during the third and fourth years of a probationary appointment – one announced and one unannounced (in this order) using one of the Danielson rubrics.

All observations and evaluations of work performance, which will be entered in the teacher’s personnel file, will be conducted openly, with full knowledge of the teacher. Teachers will be given reasonable notice of the time frame during which announced observations will be conducted.

Prior to each announced observation, a pre-observation meeting will be conducted.

Prior to the post observation, the teacher will be provided with notes from the observation.

During the post-observation discussion, areas needing improvement will be identified.

After the post-observation discussion, the final written evaluation will include recommendations, strategies or plans for improvement.
II. Probationary Teachers who do NOT have a Danielson rubric applicable to their position/duties:

In collaboration with their BOCES administrator, a professional growth/development option will be selected which will become the basis for the teacher’s annual professional performance review.

   6. At least one update meeting scheduled by the BOCES Administrator will be held. If the teacher wishes to request a meeting before their BOCES Administrator has scheduled a meeting, the teacher may request a meeting date/time.
   7. At any point, the teacher, with their BOCES Administrator approval, will be allowed to make modifications to the original proposal that are necessary to meet the teacher’s professional needs.
   8. A culminating meeting will be scheduled by the BOCES Administrator at which time documentation of the completion of the professional growth/development option will be provided by the teacher. The professional growth/development proposal form and the evaluation form will become part of the teacher’s personnel file.

III. Tenured Teachers– All tenured teachers will select a professional growth/development option or their BOCES Administrator may request a formal observation, which will become the basis for the teacher’s ongoing professional performance review. Professional growth/development options might not follow exactly the regular school calendar (September to June). With the teacher’s and the BOCES Administrator’s agreement, some goals may need to continue into the following school year. If a professional growth/development option is completed in the middle of the regular school year, the BOCES Administrator and teacher will determine when the next professional growth/development option will begin.
